Joan Vila
Managing Director
ORDISMATIC

ORDISMATIC uses Panda Cloud Email Protection* to protect its clients from spam.

ORDISMATIC, an IT vendor of hardware and computer services, has protected one of its clients from spam with Panda Cloud Email Protection*.

The client has 27 email mailboxes that each received an average of 120 junk messages every day. This caused a critical spam problem in the network, reducing corporate productivity and increasing the hassle for administrators.

The solution: Panda Cloud Email Protection*

ORDISMATIC offered its client Panda Cloud Email Protection*, a comprehensive, managed email security service from Panda Security.

One of the main benefits provided by Panda Cloud Email Protection*, compared to traditional anti-spam protection, is the fact that it leverages Panda Security's Collective Intelligence to maximize protection. This is backed by an SLA guaranteeing that users will only receive email that is 100% free from malware.

"Panda Cloud Email Protection provided our client with a critical solution for spam management, freeing them from routine tasks such as mail filtering and removal. After just 7 days using it they rated it 10 out of 10", explains Joan Vila, Managing Director at ORDISMATIC.*

Also, Panda Cloud Email Protection* offers additional services such as holding all messages received in the event of internal system failure in the organization, making them accessible once the problem has been resolved.
